PLOTTING GROWTH DATA

Plot the length and width for each day collected day. See if you can interpret the line graph that you are creating. (Teachers: you should do this as a class project. This basically is making a line graph with an x and y axis. Students do not need to know this at this time.) Units should correspond with the data gathering.

height

days